100
GREAT TIPS

FOR MORE INFO, VISIT WWW.VIRTUALOFFICEBOX.COM

1 I have been surprised how few clients know how to access WhatsApp from their laptop, which personally I love because it makes messaging so much faster. Here's how to do it.

2 Many people like to conduct their banking online. Did you know, you could save money too? Some banks offer a 'Midata download' option, which allows bank account transactions and balances to be downloaded into an Excel spreadsheet. By doing this, you can column sort, calculate and identify some recurring transactions you didn't realise were leaving your account and have them stopped. Learn more.

3 Have you ever wanted to create your own business video? Lumen5 is a really easy video maker and great to align with your social media marketing. They now offer a voiceover as well as pre-set templates. Have a look.

4 Did you ever want to match a colour you have found in a photo, and apply it to a presentation in PowerPoint, your branding or a new website? Here's how to do it.

5 The SNIPPING TOOL enables you to take a cropped picture of your screen that you can copy and paste into email, WhatsApp, Messenger, or most social media platforms, even Word, without the need to save and upload.

6 SmarterQueue is a great platform for planning out your content in a strategic way, to ensure you get a great balance of content, at the time you want, without having to be present. (This is an affiliate link, which means if you sign up for an account, we will both receive benefits!)

7 Do you use shortcuts on your keyboard? Here are 200 keyboard shortcuts to boost your productivity!

8 The quickest way to access your desktop is by clicking to the right of the fine line bottom right of your tool bar - can you see it?

9 If you want to use your keyboard to open programs pinned to your taskbar in Windows 10, press Win + T. You'll see a box appear around the first pinned item to the right of the Start Menu. Press Enter to open it, or keep pressing T to cycle through all your pinned programs from left to right.

10 In Outlook - if you want to quickly copy meetings across a selection of days, select Meeting, Ctrl + Alt and drag (with the mouse or left on the key pad) then copy to another day.

11 My favorite? Click and hold the title bar at the top of the program you're working in, then give it a vigorous shake. All other windows will be minimized to the taskbar. Pressing Windows + Home accomplishes the same thing. Alternatively, if you want to minimize everything and reveal your desktop, simply press Windows + D on your keyboard, or click the barely-visible sliver all the way to the very right of your taskbar, beyond the system tray and notification center.

12 If you use the below link it will tell you the speed of your website and tell you where you can improve. Here it is.

13 Download your LinkedIn contacts to an Excel spreadsheet, enabling you to sort into columns and identify people who are and aren't in your network, and possibly people you wish to be connected with but aren't.

14 Have a separate email address for retailers who want to send you receipts for your purchases.

15 Consider using calendar overlays. I have several calendars in Outlook. One for my business, family, Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, birthdays and utility bills.

16 Never shy away from discussing how much you charge. Check out Julia Chanteray's website and her fantastic book "Sweet Spot Pricing". To quote Julia: "Getting your price right, and then selling more will achieve the profits you want to see".

17 Review your business utilities frequently. Turn off auto-renew and assess whether that shiny new app is really a necessity anymore.

18 Always test your equipment works before calls. Set up a 'test' Zoom or Teams calls and dial-in so you can position your camera and check all works before calling live.

19 Ready to take advantage of jump lists? When you right-click a program icon in your taskbar, most will reveal a pop-up list of your most recent open files for that program, or shortcuts to common tasks. It's a great way to jump right back into a project without needing to slog through folder after subfolder in the Windows File Explorer.

20 Windows 10 can use your phone to determine when you're away from your PC and lock it down. Dynamic Lock pairs with your phone via Bluetooth and automatically locks the paired PC when you wander away. Heads up: Your computer will need Bluetooth capabilities for this to work, and the feature impacts the battery life of both your phone and laptop.

21 10 Twitter Feeds for a Timely Dose of Inspiration.

22 If you had to choose, what one chore in your home, and one in your business would you outsource - if the cost was less than your own hourly rate?

23 Everyone loves to buy things, but they hate to be sold to. If you are client-facing and responsible for the growth of the business, you are in sales, but if you take what some people think of as a traditionally 'salesy' (aka - pushy!) approach, it can be counter-productive. Your job as a salesperson is to create an environment of trust and facilitate the potential client's discovery of the real value to them of what you do or the product you sell.

24 Is your desktop really boring? Does your screen lock to display a tonne of misfiled icons? Save something important that you need to refer to daily - to your Desktop. Here are some great examples of screen backgrounds you might love.

25 How many times have you forgotten a password, and had to re-set it using your mobile device or wait for a link to drop into your email to use the re-set link? Think about how long that sorry process takes. Check out LastPass.

26 Invest in a personal writing coach: ProWritingAid - a grammar checker, style editor, and writing mentor all in one package.

27 Here's how to create a fillable template in Google Docs.

28 Want to easily add awesome text to your photos? Here's how.

29 Hundreds of articles have been published at the Productivityist blog since its creation in early 2011. Be sure to check out the podcast AND the blog for some great productivity tips!

30 To record voice notes in WhatsApp, press and hold down the microphone to the right of where you type a message, and hold until you're done. However, if you keep inadvertently releasing the record button, WhatsApp will send whatever has been recorded, to that contact. To prevent this, launch the app and tap the microphone icon as before. Then drag the icon upwards until a lock icon appears. Once you have applied the lock; release it. You will now get a glowing red microphone icon on the left hand side that indicates that your audio is being recorded. When you are finished, simply press cancel to stop recording and send the audio to your contact.

31 Did you know that hashtags, when used correctly, can help you get more reach and engagement for your posts? In fact, a post with at least one hashtag generates 12.6% more engagement than posts without a hashtag. Find your best hashtags here.
